Pack Meeting Held

Cub Scout Troop No. 81 met on Thursday evening, Oct. 29 in the Elementary School Cafeteria for the monthly pack meeting.

Den 1 opened the meeting with the pledge service in which they gave the pledge of allegiance to the flag and followed by singing America. Flag bearer was Randy Grimes. Others in the den were: William Taylor, Gary Stewart, Bob Rouse, Kenneth Formby, Larry Jameson, John Reynolds, Walter Nelson. Each of their boys received their 2 year service pin, 1 gold and 2 silver arrows. They also led the pack in singing a Halloween song.

Jim Nelson, new scout master, for the pack, also presented the following awards in Den 3 Jerry Brown and Mike Robertson received their 1 year pin, 1 gold and 1 silver arrow, Jackie Manzella and Ronnie Vandiver, 1 year pin and 1 gold arrow, Jimmy Franks 1 year pin, 2 silver arrows.

Scoutmaster Nelson introduced and welcomed a new pack to the den — Den 4 who has Mrs. Virgil Daniel Jr. den mother and Bill Eaves a den chief. Cubs are Steve King, Roscoe Franks, Tommy DeBlack, Danny Jones, Sammy Dundee and Eddie Donsil.

Mrs. J. B. Franks presented her Den 5 in a flag entertaining with a puppet show from the page of Esop's Fables in which the animal puppets described their selves and the pack of cubs guessed.

"$64,000" shows as an act of desperation to save them from plummeting viewer ratings.

Abrams indicated that Martin Revson, former executive vice president of Revlon, may not have been aware that the destiny of contestants was decided in meetings between producers and the sponsor.

Abrams was called as a witness before the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee in an effort to reconcile earlier conflicting statements made by him, Revson and the show's producers.

He was to be followed by the heads of the Columbia Broadcasting System and the National Broadcasting Co.

Revson declared emphatically earlier that Revlon, a cosmetics producer, had no idea any hanky-panky was occurring on the big-money quiz programs.

However, Abrams, in a sworn statement introduced at the hearings, had a different story—as did the show producers.

Testifying in person today, Abrams said he honestly believes officials of both Revlon and its advertising agencies knew they were controlled.

He said if Martin Revson was not aware that suggestions came out of weekly meetings to determine contestants' futures, then it was because he was busy with other functions.

Abrams testified that at the weekly sponsor-producer meetings there was never any open discussion of having a contestant continue or drop off, but such things were "always expressed as a hope or a desire" by Revlon representatives.

He said Charles Revson, president of Revlon, attended meetings infrequently and "I would say he didn't know."

He said Revlon, when it had proof of outright rigging, pulled out as sponsor.

The committee had questions ready for the nation's two biggest networks on plans for keeping deceit and fraud off the TV screens.

To get the answer, the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee summoned Robert Kintner, president of the National Broadcasting Co., and Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Both men have insisted the networks had no part in the rigging of TV quiz shows, and that they themselves were duped by the program producers.

Before questioning Kintner and Stanton, however, the subcommittee arranged to inquire a bit further into allegations of undercover payments to quiz show officials in exchange for some commercial plugs.

Subcommittee Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark) scheduled testimony from Joseph Cates, an early director of the ill-fated "$64,000 Question" quiz program, and Max Levine, press agent for an Allen-

Youths Held for Part in Shootings

CORINTH, Miss. (AP)—Police were holding eight white teen-age boys today who admitted participating in the Halloween shotgun slaying of one Negro boy and the wounding of another.

Investigators indicated previous trouble between white and Negro youths in the area brought on the shooting.

County Atty. H. M. Ray said charges probably would be filed, but he didn't indicate the nature of the charges.

Chief Harold Hinto said Darnell Glidwell, 17, admitted firing the shotgun that fatally wounded Roy Prather, 16, and injured one of his two young companions.

Max Hess, owner of the store, told Wednesday night of paying $15,000 to get an employee on the "$64,000 Question" show in 1953.

So the could plug Hess' store, missed his third question and won no money. But Hess said he did not consider his own payment wasted, because of publicity he received.

In announcing that Kintner and Stanton have been called to testify, Harris said the subcommittee felt it necessary "to go to the top" to get the whole picture of the quiz scandals.

CBS, following the subcommittee's initial round of hearings last month, banned all big money quiz and give-away shows and outlawed what it termed other deceitful program practices.

NBC refused to go along in scrapping all quiz programs but pledged that it has taken steps to prevent fraud.

The testimony of the two network chiefs was expected to wind up the current phase of the congressional probe.

Harris said he planned to end the hearings, now in their fourth day, sometime today. However, he and other subcommittee members have indicated the inquiry may be extended to take in other network program practices they regard as questionable.

DOROTHY DIX

How to Stir Interest in That Special Male

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Although I'm 28, everyone assures me I look five years younger. I have a fine job—which involves my problem. For two years I have been greatly attracted to a man who works in the same building, though not for the same firm. I was love at first sight as far as I was concerned, but unfortunately, cupid didn't hit him, too. He speaks to me, but very casually. I know he isn't married, is a few years older than I am, and has a prosperous business. Foolishly, perhaps, I have written to him — not love letters — but received no reply. I have sent him Christmas and Easter cards, but received none in return. How can I get him interested in me?—Mary

Dear Mary: You certainly don't give up easily do you? For encouragement, I can tell you I've known happy marriages to follow even worse difficulties than you are experiencing, so there's still a chance for you. Can't you find some mutual friend or business acquaintance who would be sufficiently accommodating as to have a small party, to give you ample opportunity to further your cause? At the moment, the man certainly doesn't seem too interested, and your best course really

Penney Observes Founder's Day

James Cash Penney

Founder's Day Observance Nov. 6-7

He rarely forgets a name, a face, an encounter. People who have not seen him for 25 or 30 years are often dumb-founded when he reminds them of some small incident of their last meeting.

And people remember him too. A man of simple but firm beliefs, who loves people, he has a way of saying and doing things that are hard to forget.

Perhaps no living person knows more of his fellow Americans than James Cash Penney, founder of the 1,700 store J. C. Penney chain. He founded his first store in the mining town of Kemmerer, Wyoming in 1902, seems to remember every customer he has ever waited on, and every Penney associate he has ever met. At 84, he not only puts in long days at his New York office at a pace that wears out associates two generations younger, but he travels more than 50,000 miles a year through the length and breadth of the retailing organization that indelibly bears the mark of his personality and beliefs.

Penney stores are well-known for their friendly, respectful relations with their customers. The founder insists on this. He called his first store "The Golden Rule" and notes that nothing has yet come along to convince him that the Rule ought to be repealed. J. C. Penney stores throughout the nation will observe Founder's Day Friday and Saturday, says Bill Caldwell, manager of the local J. C. Penney Store.

Says Hoffa Won't Be Successful

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark.) said yesterday that Teamster boss Jimmy Hoffa would never finish an announced campaign to oust members of Congress who voted for the 1959 Labor Management Act.

In a speech to the Little Rock chapter of the Federal Bar Assn., McClellan said Hoffa had threatened to "organize to defeat every man who voted for the bill."

The senator said Hoffa could not succeed in this but warned that opponents of the bill will make every effort "to render the law impotent or even repeal it if they can."

McClellan was chairman of a senate subcommittee whose investigations into labor-management racketeering resulted in passage of the law.

Smiley and King Out for Game With Conway

A weakened Bobcat eleven will face the Conway High School Wampus Cats in an important inter-district contest Friday night at Hammons Stadium.

Coach John Pierce of the Bobcats indicated that two of his regular backs, QB and team leader Bryon Smiley, and team leader Eddie King would not see action Friday night. Smiley has been laid low with high fever and the "flu" while a broken finger will keep King out of action.

Junior McNitt, reserve hefty lineman, is also out of action with a bruised kidney.

Coach Pierce indicated Wednesday that the Bobcats would have to "fight for our lives" to make a good showing against the strong District 3 AAA challengers.

Conway boasts a won 5, lost 2, tied 1 record entering the contest and is one of the top ranked eleven of strong District 3. The Wampus Cats have taken the measure of Van Buren 25 to 6; North Little Rock 20 to 13; tied Malvern 12-12, and lost to strong Catholic High of Little Rock 28 to 19.

The Wampus Cats run from a Wing T type LSU offense and are noted more for their running attack than for their passing game. Their defense type is also modeled from LSU.

Outstanding backs are reputed to be James Turner, halfback, the leading AAA scorer, along with Johnny Simmons, HB, and Ronnie Duke, QB. The Wampus Cats also have a doubtful starter in Sonny Smith, FB, who is expected to be replaced by Hester at the fullback slot.

The Bobcats enter the contest with an overall 5-3 season record and tied for the 4AA Conference lead with Crossett at 4-1.

In statewide AA ranking Conway is rated No. 4 as compared to the No. 7 slot designated for the Bobcats.

In another statewide poll Conway is rated No. 12 in Arkansas compared to Hope's tie with De-

Picks Conway Team to Down Hope Friday

By WICK TEMPLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Two important high school games highlight Arkansas' first November Friday. In the Big Nine Conference, old enemies Little Rock Central and North Little Rock get together.

And in Region 2AA, Forrest City and Jonesboro meet in what amounts to the league championship game.

These two stand out in a week-end of comparatively dull match-making. El Dorado and Fort Smith are heavy favorites to win Big Nine games. Texarkana and Pine Bluff are easy selections over non-conference foes. And there are no other AA games with championship flavor.

Forrest City has swept to an 8-0 record and is the only unbeaten, untied team in the state above Class A. The Mustangs, quarterbacked by all-star candidate Donnie Kessinger, now are ranked the best AA club in Arkansas. They had trouble with Stuttgart last week, winning finally by 12-0.

The word from Jonesboro is that the Hurricane is vastly improved over the team that lost to Stuttgart early in the season, 13-0. But on the basis of past records and Kessinger, we'll select Forrest City, 14-7.

Little Rock Central is the logical choice over North Little Rock because of its size and depth. But in this grudge game, ambition may be the big factor. The Northsiders know they have their best chance in many years to overcome the Tigers.

The prediction: Riding the passing arm of Claude Fulton, the Bengals should win, 28-14.

Elsewhere in the Big Nine: El Dorado 27, Blytheville 12. El Dorado must make the long trip but they have too much depth and power for the Chicks. Garland Queen for spots No. 18 and 19 in overall schoolboy rank.

The seasons largest crowd is expected to be on hand for this inter-conference rivalry which began last year with Hope emerging a close victor.

Conway this year is playing the return match and is determined to match Hope's last year's record in every department. They have also done so on the Special Train score as some 700 fans will ride the Conway Special to root for the Wampus Cats. Those 700 along with the Conway gridders are coming for the sole purpose of winning a football game. The answer will be determined on the gridiron Friday night at Hammons Stadium.

Mooty Likely to Gain New Marks Against Rice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Cotton-haired Jim Mooty, the Rabbit of the Ozarks, hopes to gain two statistical distinctions Saturday when his Arkansas Razorbacks meet Rice at Houston.

By gaining 12 yards rushing, he can reach the 1,000-yard mark for his career at Arkansas. By gaining 32, he can take over the Southwest Conference ground gaining lead from TCU fullback Jack Epke.

TCU is idle this week. The 105-pound Mooty tore through the Texas A&M line last week for 112 yards and two touchdowns as Arkansas beat A&M, 12-7. Aggie Coach Jim Myers dubbed the hog halfback undoubtedly the determining factor in the game.

Mooty now has 454 yards on 82 carries for a 5.5 average. He's one of the main reasons the Razorbacks rank second to Texas in Southwest Conference standings with a 3-1 record. Spikes has 486 yards.

Coach Frank Broyles says his peppy speedster "runs wide like a halfback, up the middle like a fullback, and is as tough on defense as a good defensive end."

Mooty was selected All-Southwest Conference last year as a junior although he missed two conference games. This year he is being boosted for All-American honors as well as All-SWC.

Although he hasn't thrown a pass, Mooty ranks fourth in the league in total offense behind such illustrious passmen as Don Meredith of SMU and Charley Misteard of the Aggies, and Spikes.

The next two weekends will mean a lot both to Mooty and the Razorbacks. After Rice comes SMU at Dallas. The Hogs will have to win both to remain in contention for a possible bowl bid.

Coach Frank Broyles says his peppy speedster "runs wide like a halfback, up the middle like a fullback, and is as tough on defense as a good defensive end."

Seems It Was All a Stunt for Publicity
By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Evelyn or was it Eloise — took off from Hollywood Wednesday and headed for the White House to get Mamie Eisenhower to promote a new television series for her.

Nobody told her to do it, 9-year-old child actress Evelyn Rudie insisted after making a jet airplane trip across country on her own.

It wasn't a publicity stunt, she claimed, just a way she thought she might get back to working again on TV. Two years ago she portrayed an impish brat named Eloise.

Of course, she didn't make it to the White House, where she had once posed for Mrs. Eisenhower to promote U.S. Savings Bonds.

"When I saw Mrs. Eisenhower in Washington last year, she told me that she and her grandchildren and the President enjoyed my acting so much," Evelyn explained. "So I decided to talk with her and see if she couldn't help me get a part in a film or TV series."

The idea had become a sort of game at home, said her mother, Mrs. Emory Bernauer. Finally, she said, she told Evelyn jestingly if she wanted to see Mrs. Eisenhower to go ahead. "Pack your bag, buy your ticket, and go."

"I never dreamed she would take me seriously," Mrs. Bernauer said in Hollywood. But Evelyn disappeared at dawn and she called notice.

Evelyn apparently bought her ticket with $125 from four piggy banks, called her own cab, and took off.

Arkansas Firm Sues for Kansas Permit
TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—An Arkansas insurance firm filed suit in Shawnee County District Court yesterday to compel Frank Sullivan, Kansas insurance commissioner, to give immediate consideration to its application to do business in this state.

Preferred Risk Insurance Co. of Fayetteville, Ark., said it filed its application in September of 1958. Sullivan's office said it is behind in processing applications because it does not have sufficient manpower. It said more than 100 applications are on file and it takes more than a year for an application to come up for consideration.

The company asked for its application to be advanced out of its "regular" turn, said the insurance department spokesman. "We said no and this suit was the result."

WITHOUT SCARS

by INGRAM SEE

THE STORY: Sara Volinger has made friends in Balem, Brazil, with Manoel Fontes, owner of a rubber warehouse, and Guaro de Faria, his former employee. They do not know that she is working for an insurance company which is investigating a mysterious fire at Fontes' warehouse.

Chapter XVI

Guaro de Faria nodded and continued: "Then you know that a self-appointed thief, Englishman Henry Wickham, managed to smuggle out enough seeds to start the plantations abroad which robbed us of our rubber trade."

"I have read much of the bold young Wickham's theft," Sara said, and thought with a touch of pride that her heavy use of adjectives made her sound like a real Brazilian. "That has something to do with your grandfather?"

Guaro lowered his voice. "Grandpa was one of two or three children from the Fontes property who helped Wickham get his seeds from the jungle to the ship Wickham had waiting."

"I have read that very young Indian boys can handle canoes," she saw Guaro's mouth tighten, his eyes harden. "Have I said something wrong?"

"So you could tell," he whispered, "that grandpa was Indian?"

She couldn't say that she had read it in a newspaper weeks ago. "In my country we are proud to have Indian ancestors. Is it not that way here?"

So this was what Batelha had been referring to about Guaro's ancestry.

"Senhora, do you not know there is a self-styled aristocracy everywhere?" He did not wait for a answer. "Forty years later the old man — that's this Fontes' grandfather — found out that grandpa had helped Wickham and kicked him off his estate."

But now, Sara said to herself, this Fontes has saved his life. But she must not start defending Manoel Fontes. She looked out at the great statue in the square in front of them, at the Opera House across the way, and tried to be casual as she asked: "Where is your own warehouse, Guaro?"

"Warehouse? Senhora, I have many warehouses!"

"Oh? Where?"

"On the way to the beach."

At that, Sara felt suddenly afraid of this man.

When Sara walked in, her front door, she found Adalgiza at the window watching Guaro return to his car.

"Al, senhora," she greeted did she think she knew about insurance claims? Why didn't she spend her time at the Botanical Garden and the Zoo until Thorpe was well?

Preguicozo jumped from the window sill and padded to her. She pulled the hefty cat onto her lap.

"Timmy would love you, Preguicozo," she whispered. She got out her stationery. She wrote to Rhoda and to Maria. Then she took another sheet of paper and began a letter she could not mail.

"Precious Timmy, mama loves you and loves you and loves you. I am far away from you, and I have a little maid who would love you and two pets that would love you, to. Faminha is a hum-ary lizard who catches mosquitos and then hides on the inside of the door while he eats them. Preguicozo is a yellow cat as big as a dog. So far from Timmy, from Guaro, so lost without Kim Adalgiza close and lock the door and the shutters in the front room before she capped her pen and put the letter in a pocket of suitcase.

The next day she went to the Zoological and Botanical Gardens: she sketched toucans with bills like yellow cow horns, banana trees with six-foot leaves, and a rocky pool crowded with water plants at one end and bordered at the other by low calash trees, orchids on their tops. The rays of the rapidly setting sun spread the colors of the rose red blossoms and the lily-like green leaves of the water plants over the surface of the pool. She sketched the yellow gourd and the purple orchids into the shadows of the trees. She was tempted to buy paints to sketch in color.

She showed her work to Senhor Fontes the next morning in his office, and he provided the excuse she had been vainly seeking for talking to his night watchman. "If you liked the Gardens at sunset," he said, handing members to consider carefully before voting for a candidate who is a Roman Catholic.

Baptists Told to Study Vote for Catholic

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) —The Baptist General Convention of Texas advised its 1,630,090

The delegates approved a resolution asserting that the "Roman Church is both a religion and an ambitious political system aspiring to be a state."

The delegates also passed a resolution condemning racial prejudices.

The resolution on candidates said that "no person's religious affiliation per se should rule out his candidacy. Theoretically, a Roman Catholic has as much right to be elected to public office as anyone else. Practically, it must be remembered that the Catholic Church rejects as a 'shibboleth of doctrinaire secularism' the American doctrine of separation of Church and State."

In race relations, said a resolution, Baptists have an "imperative from God to act and speak redemptively now." The "Un-Christian indignities of the caste system long imposed on Negroes in this land are foreign to the spirit and teachings of our Lord."

The commission called for Baptists to "encourage religious communications between Negroes and whites in a land and a world where we must continue to live together."

NEW FLAVOR IN THESE ROLLS

Yeast-raised rolls are as traditional to Thanksgiving tables as turkey. And just as a new stuffing can dress up the holiday bird, so yeast-raised rolls can add interest to dinner rolls. These yeast-raised rolls are a unique combination of yeast and raisins. To save last-minute time, make them early in the week and freeze for the big day.

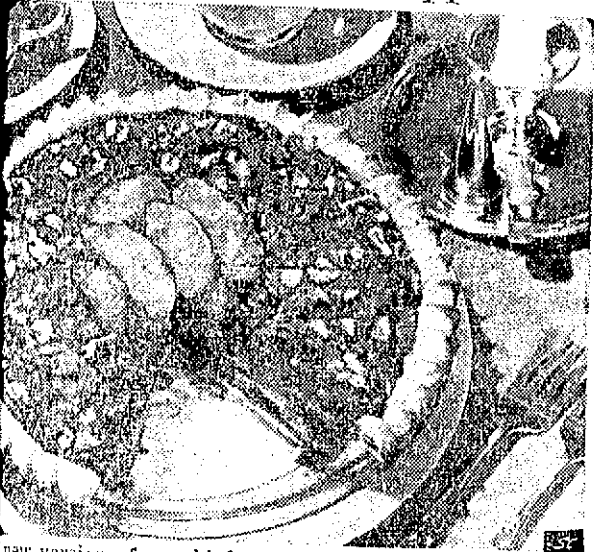

THANKSGIVING DINNER ROLLS

Warm, not hot, water
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup yeast
dry or compressed

1 tablespoon soft shortening
1 1/4 cups mashed cooked yams or sweet potatoes
3 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3/4 cup raisins
Melted margarine or butter

Water (warm, not hot for active dry yeast; lukewarm for yeast), sugar and salt; mix well. Add yeast and stir until dissolved. Add sugar and salt. Combine flour and raisins; add mixture in two additions, or until dough is smooth and elastic. Greased bowl; cover with damp cloth and let rise in warm place until double in bulk, about 1 1/2 hours. Punch down and pull edges toward center. Turn dough out on lightly floured surface; roll out to 1/4-inch thickness. Flour 4-inch cutter. Brush with margarine or butter. Make cross each round; fold so that top half slightly overlaps. Press center at crease. Place close together on lightly greased baking sheet and let rise 15 minutes. Bake at 425° F. 12 to 15 minutes, until brown.

Walnuts Add Flavor To Apple Pie

New version of an old favorite, serve this deliciously different apple pie. Quick-cooking tapioca helps keep the fresh flavor of the apples while the filling bakes to perfect juiciness. The crunchiness of walnut topping make this pie absolutely irresistible.

Apple Pie with Walnut Crumb Top
4 cups quick-cooking
tapioca
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup cinnamon
1/2 cup nutmeg
1/2 cup butter, melted
1/4 cup butter, melted

Quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, salt, spices, apples, lemon juice and cream. Roll pastry 1/8 inch thick. Line a 9-inch pie pan. Put 1 inch layer of apples, fold edge to form a standing rim. Fill with apple mixture and bake in hot oven (425° F.) 15 minutes. Then sprinkle Walnut Crumb Topping over apple mixture. Bake 20 to 25 minutes longer, or until syrup boils with bubbles that do not burst.

Walnut Crumb Topping. Combine 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup fine cracker crumbs, 1/4 cup flour, 1/4 cup chopped walnuts, 1/2 cup cinnamon, and 1/8 teaspoon salt.

Dollaway in No Action on Exceptions

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The Dollaway School Board met last night but took no action on exceptions filed by Negro students to their assignment to an all-Negro school.

The students filed the exceptions after the board had turned down their request for transfers from the all-Negro school to all-white Dollaway High School.

Can't Limit Integration, Matson Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The vice president of the Little Rock School Board said yesterday that anyone who thinks integration here can be limited to the present eight Negroes in formerly all-white high schools is deluding himself.

"We must comply with the law," Russell H. Matson Jr. told the Women's Emergency Committee for Public Schools.

"We will have to drop down to junior high and elementary grades as soon as the school system is running smoothly."

A 1956 federal court order requires that all 12 grades be desegregated by the fall of 1963.

Matson said he believed that immediate and "indiscriminate" integration would cause destruction of the public schools.

But he added that the board's first obligation was to operate the schools "within the law."

Two of Matson's colleagues whose terms expire this year yesterday said they would be candidates for new three-year elective terms on the board.

They are board President Russell H. Matson Jr. and B. Frank Mackey.

No one else has announced for either position, but it developed there is a possibility one or more Negroes may run.

Dr. M. A. Jackson, a Negro physician, said he was considering the race but had made no commitment.

Petitions are being circulated to sound out potential support for a Negro candidate with Dr. Jackson mentioned as a possible contender.

I. S. McClinton, a Negro political leader, said he opposed the idea at this time as unrealistic. He said that presence of a Negro candidate could split the vote and result in a victory for an extreme segregationist candidate.

School elections are settled by plurality. There is no runoff as in party primaries.

News Briefs

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Prime Minister Abdallah Ibrahim said today he would start negotiations in a week or two to arrange details of the evacuation of the U.S. air bases in Morocco.

The State Department, during discussions in Washington with Ibrahim, agreed in principle to withdrawal of the U.S. forces from the bases. A U.S. Embassy spokesman here described this as an understanding, not an agreement.

LONDON (AP) — Guenther Fritz Nov. 10 is deadline for board candidates to file.

Podola will be hanged Thursday by a friend of the British policeman he murdered.

Podola, a German, was convicted of shooting Sgt. Raymond Purdy to death while attempting to escape arrest July 13.

"I knew Ray Purdy well," the hangman, Ray Allen, told newsmen. "We had been friends for about eight years. He was a very nice person. I liked him very much. He was too nice to die the way he did."

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today marked the first anniversary of his coronation and asked for the prayers of the entire Roman Catholic Church to aid him in the second year of his pontificate.

The 77-year-old Pope spoke during a Mass honoring him in St. Peter's. Thirty-one cardinals, hundreds of archbishops and bishops, the diplomatic corps to the Vatican, and about 20,000 persons attended.

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda reported today that a Soviet test pilot flew a single engine jet plane 2,500 kilometers—1,553.5 miles—an hour to break the official world's air speed record.

The newspaper said Lt. Col. Georgy Mosolov, a veteran test pilot, set the mark while testing a delta-wing 1901 jet "in the lower strata of the atmosphere" Oct. 31.

TV Questions Dramatically Guarded

NEW YORK (AP)—Remember the elaborate security measures that surrounded TV quiz show questions?

How, in some cases, they were hidden in a sealed envelope that was kept in a bank vault until brought dramatically on stage under the protection of armed guards?

Yet some contestants—Charles Van Doren and Xavier Cugat—have testified they got Q and A coaching all the way. How could it happen?

The answer, in retrospect, appears simple.

Those sealed envelopes were securely guarded, but that accomplished nothing toward secrecy if someone in a key position on a show knew the questions before they ever went to the bank.

Mert Koplun, a former producer, told congressional probes yesterday he knew the questions and answers and supplied them to contestants on three quiz programs—"The $64,000 Question," "The $64,000 Challenge" and "The Big Surprise."

The bank that guarded the envelopes for "The $64,000 Question"—The Manufacturers Trust Co.—said it had trusted the word of producers that they and other unauthorized persons had not seen the questions.

"We accepted the assurance given us by the program producers, and so stated on the telecast, that no one, except for the editors, had seen the questions before they were placed in our vault," said a spokesman for the bank.

While the program was on the air, this announcement was made.

"From this point on, all questions come from the locked vaults of the Manufacturers Trust Co. Manufacturers Trust Co. guarantees that only authorized members of the bank have keys and combinations of the vault, and except for the editors, no one has seen the questions."

The spokesman gave this account of the bank's procedure.

"The rule of the bank in connection with the program was solely to provide a normal banking service in holding sealed envelopes containing the questions in our safe deposit vaults after they were turned over to us by the producers of 'The $64,000 Question.'"

"Customary safe deposit procedures were observed. Other safeguards were taken to insure, through special sealing of the containers and the envelopes, that no one could examine the questions while they were in our custody without it becoming immediately apparent."

Construction Worker Is Shot to Death

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Clarence M. Whitehead, 22, a Little Rock construction worker, was shot to death by an estranged husband outside a cafe here last night.

Homer Lee Booher, 38, of Little Rock, who police said once served a sentence for murder, was arrested.

Police Chief Ray Vick said a charge would be lodged against him today.

Mrs. Booher, who was with Whitehead when he was shot, was held for a time for questioning but later was released.

Detective Lieut. M. E. Gilbert quoted the 26-year-old Mrs. Booher as saying her husband shot Whitehead as she and Whitehead were getting into the latter's automobile in an alley beside Jobe's Cafe in downtown North Little Rock.

Mrs. Booher told the officer that she met Whitehead in the cafe and that he offered to take her home.

She said that when Whitehead started to open the door of the automobile, Booher appeared and said, "All right, I've caught you!" and then fired a pistol at Whitehead.

Whitehead was struck in the chest and was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Gilbert said Booher had a prison record and had served a term for murder.

Stat' Parade Office records show that a Homer Lee Booher was convicted of second degree murder on Oct. 14, 1939, in Jefferson County and sentenced to 15 years imprisonment.

Rep. Boyle Dies in Car Accident

CHICAGO (AP)—Charles A. Boyle, 52, of Chicago, Democratic representative in Congress since 1934, was killed early today when a car he was driving struck an elevated train pillar.

Police said Boyle, who was alone in the car, apparently skidded on the wet street into the pillar on South Western Avenue. They said he was driving north, apparently on his way home.

Boyle, an attorney, represented the 12th Illinois District, which includes most of nine North Side wards with a population of more than 100,000.

Boyle was a practicing lawyer in Chicago since 1934. He was the father of eight children.

He was born at Spring Lake, Mich., and was a graduate of Loyola University of Chicago and Loyola Law School.

Probers Expand Investigation

HOPE (AP)—A television show sponsor disputed a suggestion that his had a hand in rigging of complicity in TV quiz.

Challenge. Revson testified that had he known there was any fixing the show would have been dropped at once.

"After all, Revson's reputation was staked on the integrity of our programs," he declared.

As the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight heard Revson challenge testimony that Revson was aware quiz contestants were fixed, there were these additional developments:

1. President Eisenhower told a White House news conference that nobody is going to be satisfied until the TV quiz rigging scandals are cleaned up.

2. House investigators made public closed-door testimony that the NBC quiz program "The $64,000 Question" and "The $64,000

Dough" was rigged. Army Capt. Michael O'Rourke won $108,000 on this show before falling to New Jersey salesman Martin Dowd. Dowd testified he got the answers from producer Howard Felsher, but said he was sure O'Rourke was not coached. O'Rourke recently denied receiving any help.

Investigators also disclosed that Albert Freedman, former producer of the NBC program "Twenty-One," has promised to return from Mexico if his testimony is needed.

Freedman appeared in closed-door hearings last month when he refused to answer questions about a $5,000 bribe he tried to borrow from Van Doren after Van Doren's winnings went over $100,000.

"I never had the slightest knowledge,"

Child TV Actress Shot to Death

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The mother of a well-known child television actress, Evelyn Rudie, requested to police today that the girl is missing from the family home.

The mother, Edith Bernauer, said she put the girl to bed at 8 o'clock Tuesday night and found her missing when she went to her room about 7:30 a.m. today.

The mother said the girl's short dark coat also was missing. Evelyn Rudie has been in dozens of TV plays and only last Thursday was on a show.

The actress' father is Emory Bernauer, who is a publicist and playwright.

Mrs. Bernauer and her husband said they know of no reason why the child would leave home.

Sgt. J. W. Schock of the Juvenile Division said there was nothing to indicate the child had been kidnapped.

News Briefs

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—One voter in Salt Lake City's municipal election Tuesday didn't like either of the two candidates for mayor, Kahl, the elephant at the Hogie Zoo received one write-in vote.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An intermediate range Thor, the most-fired U.S. ballistic missile, was launched for the 66th time Tuesday.

There was no official announcement on the test results, but a reliable source reported the 65-foot missile performed as expected as it sped down the Atlantic missile range.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rookie patrolman John W. Ensign has made his first arrest and recovered his first stolen car. It was his own.

He spotted Mike Gehres, 18, driving the car Tuesday. After a brief chase, Gehres leaped from the car and Ensign tackled him.

The youth was booked on a grand theft charge. Ensign said the car was stolen from the police station parking lot.

edge that any contestant was told any answer in advance," Revson testified today.

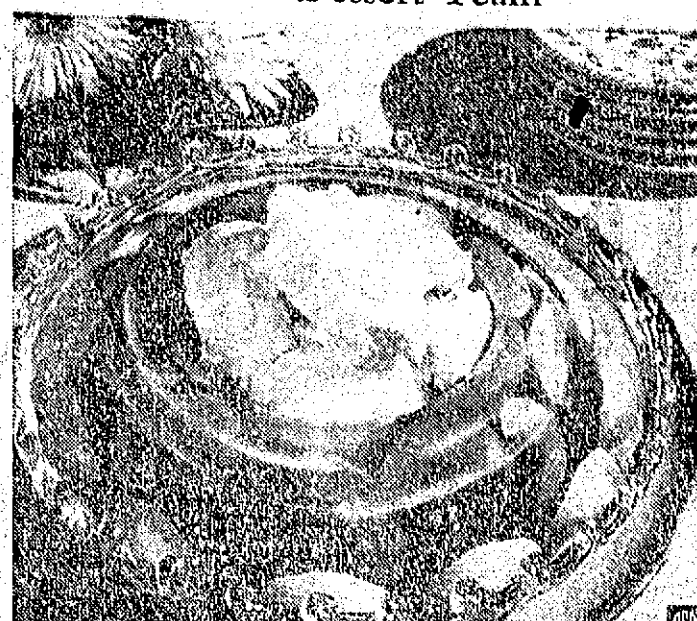

"It never entered my mind that the producer could control the losing or winning," he said.

Two producers of the now-defunct show testified earlier they were controlled.

Mert Koplin, associate producer, said Revson was aware of this control. Steven R. Carlin, another associate producer, said the sponsor "indicated to us they had some idea we were controlling the show."

Revson, who described himself as "the senior Revlon executive responsible" at the time but now a private investor, put the blame for any hanky-panky on the owners of the show, Entertainment Productions, Inc.

Classic Dessert Team

Year after year the classic team of creamed fruit and gelatin enters the dessert popularity contest, and it wins a favorite spot on the family table. Add creamed fruit nectar and ice cream to the team and the majority vote is overwhelming. Happily, too, it is one of the easiest desserts to prepare. The combination of sliced peaches with berry nectar is excellent, but you'll want to vary it from time to time by using other fruits and either apricot, peach or pear-pineapple nectar.

Peaches and Cream Dessert Ring
1 envelope unflavored gelatin 1 can (16 oz.) sliced peaches
3/4 cup cold water 1 pt. vanilla ice cream
1 cup creamed berry nectar

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine nectar and 3/4 cup of syrup drained from the peaches; heat to boiling. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Pour into mold and chill until slightly thickened. Add drained peaches and chill until firm. Unmold on serving dish and fill center with ice cream. Six servings.

Says Georgia Can Escape L. R. Tragedy

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The chairman of the Little Rock, Ark., School Board says Georgia can escape its city's school tragedy by keeping school control with local boards.

Everett Tucker Jr., last night addressed some 250 business and professional men and their wives "interested" in the words of a spokesman, "in keeping our schools open."

He was accompanied by Boyd Ridgway, Little Rock, Chamber of Commerce director, whom he credited with rallying members of that organization to the support of the city's schools.

Both will speak in Atlanta tonight.

at a meeting of Hope Inc., an organization pledged to an all-out effort to keep Georgia schools from closing in the integration dispute.

Tucker advised Georgians to keep their schools open at all odds. He urged them also to prevent politicians from using the school issue for their own selfish ends.

Tucker described himself as a segregationist but a realist. He said the Little Rock high schools, now open after a 10-day session of closing, are about 600 students short and "we still don't know where they are."

He viewed the Little Rock situation as a "deferred to some of the insatiable demands of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People" and some of the activities of "the more militant segregationists."

About one out of every 10 Caucasians speaks both English and French.

Cremao gives you more flavor because of one simple fact: it is made from costlier ingredients, including the one from which highest priced spreads are made. For every use to which a breadspread is put, Cremao has no superior. Start enjoying this luxurious margarine now.

The MARGARINE preferred over highest priced spreads

Highest Priced Spread Ingredients—Spreads Smoother—Tastes Better

Cremao, fat-free milk, hardened cottonseed and soybean oil, palm nut oil, salt, lecithin, monoglyceride, sodium benzoate, citric acid, Vitamin A, artificial coloring and flavoring are blended in Cremao.
